How Harry Can Win In November

If the national news media ignore Harry's independent presidential campaign, he will, of course, have no chance in the election. On the other hand, if Harry's pictures of Windship and OTEC hydrogen production systems, (which could make America energy independent of all fossil and nuclear fuels by 2010) received even a small fraction of the exposure given to the images of prisoner abuse in Iraq, the American public would then become aware of Harry Braun and his Phoenix Project Platform to transform America into a solar hydrogen superpower.

Within a few days, Harry will become the front runner, which will mean he will be invited to the debates with President Bush and Senator Kerry.

The American public will then learn about Harry Braun's enlightened education, healthcare and foreign policies, as well as the 6 constitutional Amendments he is proposing that will eliminate government and corporate secrecy; ban corporate campaign contributions and the production of radioactive wastes; and transform America from a republic, where a small handful of people make decisions behind closed doors, to a true democracy, where all of the people, and not their elected officials, shall vote on the legislation that becomes law.

This is why if America is made aware of Harry's vision for the future of America and Spaceship Earth, he will be the next president of the United States.
